The Graduate College requires students to maintain a minimum FAU cumulative GPA of 3.0 throughout their course of graduate study. As per University-wide policy, this minimum GPA is a requirement for program continuation, enrollment in thesis and dissertation credits and graduation. Individual graduate programs may have stricter standards of satisfactory performance. The academic progression plan will be on a semester-by-semester basis to monitor your progress.

List below only degree applicable courses to be taken in your next semester of enrollment and required minimum grades.

A graduate student's FAU cumulative grade point average is computed on the basis of coursework taken after admission to the graduate program, by dividing the sum of the grade points earned at FAU by the total number of credits in all courses for which grades of A through F have been received. The grades of "C-," "D+," "D," "D-," "F" and "U" are failing grades, although the grade points associated with these letter grades are included in grade point average calculations. The new cumulative GPA above must be greater than or equal to 3.0. No credits are earned in courses in which grades of "AU," "CR," "F," "I," "U," "W," "WM" or "ZR" are received. Students who do not maintain satisfactory progress in their research, as determined by their thesis or dissertation advisory committee, may be dismissed should unsatisfactory progress continue in accordance with Academic Dismissal of Students from a Graduate Degree Program (2015 Provost Memorandum).

"I acknowledge that this Academic Progression Plan reflects courses to be taken in my next semester of enrollment. I understand that if I fail to meet the requirements stipulated in this Academic Progression Plan, my graduate program will initiate an academic dismissal, or develop a revised Academic Progression Plan for one more semester. If dismissed, any courses that I may take in the future as a graduate non-degree seeking student, or as a graduate student at another institution, will not count towards fulfilling degree requirements should I ever be readmitted into this graduate program in the future."
