Proposal: A Graduate Certificate in Addictions

Introduction and Rationale

The National Institute on Drug Abuse (2018) reported that more than 130 people in the United States die daily from an opioid overdose. Not only does this have devastating effects on the lives of loved ones, but it comes with an economic burden that totals $78.5 billion a year in the United States alone (National Institute on Drug Abuse, 2017).

The National Survey on Drug Use and Health (NSDUH, 2017), reported 19.7 million American adults (aged 12 and older) battled a substance use disorder; again perpetuating loss and trauma on those afflicted as well as costing the American society more than $740 billion annually in lost workplace productivity, healthcare expenses, and crime-related costs.

In an effort to combat the growing crisis of addiction in our country, The Phyllis and Harvey Sandler School of Social Work has collaborated with the Florida Certification Board (FCB) to be able to offer students interested in specializing in working in the field of addiction, a jump start on earning their credential as either a Certified Addiction Professional (CAP) or a Master's Level Addiction Professional (MCAP). (Please see below for certification requirements.) An MCAP credential identifies a practitioner as a specialist in the field of addiction and meets the requirements for a qualified professional under Chapter 397, Florida Statutes, allowing practitioners to make substance use disorder diagnosis and bill under Florida's State Medicaid.

The Graduate Certificate in Addictions will be offered to second year (Specialist) or Advanced Standing MSW students only.

Hi Joy,

Based on the curriculum description and the titles of the required core courses (no detailed content) in the file you sent to me, I don't see any overlap with current graduate courses at COM.
Thank you for asking.

Subject: School of Social Work/New Course-Graduate Certificate Proposals and Program Change Requests

Dear Dr. Huang,

Please see the attached document describing a new certificate program in addictions being proposed by the School of Social Work in the College of Design and Social Inquiry. Dr. Art Sementelli from my College has asked that I consult with the College of Medicine, to ensure there is no conflict or concerns. Thanks very much in advance for taking a look at this for me? I am happy to address any questions or concerns.

Subject: Addictions Certificate

Hi Joy,

I saw on the agenda for UGPC the Graduate Certificate in Addictions program. I don't think that we were consulted on this for potential conflict. However, as I read through it, I saw that "The Graduate Certificate in Addictions will be offered to second year (Specialist) or Advanced Standing MSW students only."

As long as this would not preclude us from pursuing similar credentialing for our students (something that we are seeing a call for), then Counselor Education would have no objection to this additional credential for Social Work students. God knows we need it!

All the best,

-Paul
