Request to Change Pre-Requisite Course Requirements to Department Permission
(Syllabus attached):

Background:

This course is the first course in the Advanced Holistic Nursing concentration and the first of two didactic Foundations courses. Prerequisites listed are completion of core courses (NGR 6703,6811,6199,6141, 6002, 6002L, 6812, 6744).

Rationale for Change:

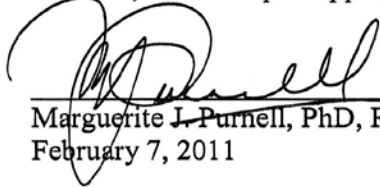

Students are unable to take core courses in sequence because of College of Nursing scheduling constraints and therefore have a reduced course load. They need to be able to take Foundations of Holistic Nursing 1 as required, with faculty advisement, in order to maintain course load or fulfill any scholarship requirements. Department Permission would also provide access for graduate students to the Foundations courses as electives. Foundations of Holistic Nursing 1 is the pre-requisite specified for Foundations of Holistic Nursing 2, the second didactic course.

Impact on FTEs:

This will have a positive impact on FTEs.

When Changes are Planned to be Offered:

Summer, 2011 or upon approval.

STATEMENT OF PHILOSOPHY

Nursing is a discipline of knowledge and a field of professional practice grounded in caring. Scholarship and practice in nursing require creative integration of multiple ways of knowing. Nursing makes a unique contribution because of its special focus: nurturing the wholeness of persons through caring. Caring in nursing is a mutual human process in which the nurse artistically responds with authentic presence to calls from clients.

The experience of nursing takes place in nursing situations: lived experiences in which the caring between nurse and client fosters well-being within a co-creative experience. Nurses participate with members of other disciplines to advance human understanding to enhance personal and societal living within a global environment.

Person is viewed as a unique individual dynamically interconnected with others and the environment in caring relationships. The nature of being human is to be caring. Humans choose values, culturally derived, which give meaning to living and enhance well-being. Well-being is creating and living the meaning of life. The well-being and wholeness of persons, families, groups, communities, and societies are nurtured through caring relationships.

Beliefs about learning and environments which foster learning are derived from an understanding of person, the nature of nursing and nursing knowledge, and from the mission of the University. Learning involves the creation of understanding through the integration of knowledge within a context of value and meaning. A supportive environment for learning is a caring environment. A caring environment is one in which all aspects of the human person are respected, nurtured, and celebrated. The learning environment emphasizes collegial relationships with faculty and students.

The above fundamental beliefs concerning Person, Nursing, and Learning express our values and guide the endeavors of the Faculty. The Faculty of the Christine E. Lynn College of Nursing believe in the values and goals of higher learning and support the Florida Atlantic University mission of education, scholarship, and service.
