Course Description: SPW 6429 Cultural Objects in Golden Age (3 credits)

This course is an exploration of early modernity and its changes through the lenses of its writers. It is approached through the perspective of New Historicism and Material Culture, and focuses on cultural objects in literary texts and daily life (i.e. chocolate, clothing, architecture).

Course Description

This course presents the culture and literary works of the so called “Siglo de Oro” or “Siglos de Oro,” “The Golden Age” (16th and 17th centuries), through representative Spanish peninsular literary works and the critical lenses of New Historicism and Material Culture.

Objetives

By the end of the course, the students will:

- have studied several 16th. and 17th. century Spanish peninsular literary works.
- be familiar with the perspectives of New Historicism and Material Culture and will be able to contrast them to other ones.
- know how to incorporate the theoretical discussion to a literary work which will, in turn, contribute to their critical thinking skills.
- have an enhanced awareness of the socio-political references that appear in the literary representation.
- have a better understanding of the changes brought on by early modernity.

Class Evaluation

Attendance and participation	5%
Reflections (5)	20%
Critic Presentation	15%
Final Exam	20%
Final Paper	40%	(Abstract and bibliography 10%, paper 30%)

Participation: It means not only coming to class but contributing to the discussion of assigned materials.

Reflections: They are brief, 3-4 page essays. Select a fragment of the assigned work that caught your attention and analyze it according to the perspective that you find most useful, and not necessarily New Historicism. You will hand in 5 reflections on Canvas as well as on paper, typed. You should come to class ready to present your ideas on those days.

For the Critic Presentation: (10-15 minutes) you need to present information about a critic of the period assigned to you on the first day of class. The presentation should include 1) A bibliography and commentary of his/her most important works (you are expected to know 2 in depth); 2) His/her contribution to Golden Age; 3) A summary page for your classmates with the main ideas and bibliography.

The Final Exam: will have both general and specific questions about the Golden Age.

The Final Paper: (15-20 pages) will be an original analysis of any cultural aspect regarding the Golden Age (not necessarily literature). It requires the presentation of an abstract with the main ideas plus the bibliography for approval.

ATENDANCE: Be aware that more than ONE unexcused absence will lower your participation from 5% to 0%.

PLAGIARISM: You are expected to follow the Academic Honesty Rules at the university. It is of outmost importance that the work you present is indeed yours and that ideas from others are quoted and receive the necessary credit. Otherwise, you will receive an F for the paper or exam. Plagiarism is a serious matter which may lead to failure or even expulsion from the university.

Assignment Submission Policy

Late Work: All assignments are to be submitted before the beginning of class (not during or at the end) via Blackboard as well as printed. They will be accepted up to a week later, but with a 5 point grade reduction.

Incompletes: Are reserved for students who are passing the course but have not completed all the required work because of exceptional circumstances.

Student E-Mail Policy:

Effective August 1, 2004, FAU adopted the following policy:

“When contacting students via e-mail, the University will use only the student’s FAU e-mail address. This will ensure that e-mail messages from FAU administration and faculty can be sent to all students via a valid address. E-mail accounts are provided automatically for all students from the point of application to the University. The account will be disabled one year post-graduation or after three consecutive semesters of non-enrollment.”

Please use your FAU account when e-mailing your instructor

Americans with Disabilities Policy Statement

In compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Amendments Act (ADAAA), students who require reasonable accommodations due to a disability to properly execute coursework must register with Student Accessibility Services (SAS)—in Boca Raton, SU 133 (561-297-3880); in Davie, LA 203 (954-236-1222); or in Jupiter, SR 110 (561-799-8585) —and follow all SAS procedures.

Code of Academic Integrity

Students at Florida Atlantic University are expected to maintain the highest ethical standards. Academic dishonesty, including cheating and plagiarism, is considered a serious breach of these ethical standards, because it interferes with the University mission to provide a high quality education in which no student enjoys an unfair advantage over any other. Academic dishonesty is also destructive of the University community, which is grounded in a system of mutual trust and places high value on personal integrity and individual responsibility. Harsh penalties are associated with academic dishonesty. For more information, see the Code of Academic Integrity in the University Regulations at http://www.fau.edu/regulations/chapter4/4.001_Code_of_Academic_Integrity.pdf.

Students are expected to uphold the Academic Honor Code. This includes the use of translator programs or having friends or family revise your assignments.

ALL assignments that you turn in to your instructor for a grade must be your own work. This means that excessive help from tutors or anyone else on graded assignments constitutes academic dishonesty. If your instructor suspects that an assignment completed outside of class is not entirely your own work, the case will be documented and appropriate disciplinary action will be applied as per the University's Code of Academic Integrity.

If you are not sure about what constitutes plagiarism, please visit the following site created by the University of Southern Mississippi Library:

<http://www.lib.usm.edu/legacy/plag/plagiarismtutorial.php>

ACADEMIC DISHONESTY ON ALL ASSIGNMENTS AND EXAMS IS GROUNDS FOR FAILURE IN THE COURSE.

By remaining enrolled in this course past the end of Drop /Add, you are agreeing to:

- uphold The Academic Honor System of Florida Atlantic University, and
- accept accountability for the course requirements, the course expectations, and the attendance policy stated in this document.
- attend the final exam which takes place as scheduled by the University.
