FLORIDA ATLANTIC UNIVERSITY FACULTY SENATE CONSTITUTION AND BYLAWS

The Florida Atlantic University Faculty Senate Constitution and Bylaws are established by the faculty to define faculty governance of the University. In establishing them, it is recognized that authority for operation of the university is vested in the President of the University, by law and by the policies of the FAU Board of Trustees. At the same time, it is recognized that faculty plays an essential role in the development of the policies and practices by which the university fulfills its academic mission. The goal of faculty governance, and of these bylaws, is to maintain the respect and communication between faculty and administration that make it possible for the university to function.

Article I. Name

The name of the organization is the University Faculty Senate (UFS).

Article II. Purpose

The UFS is the governance body concerned with matters of general university educational and administrative policy at Florida Atlantic University. The UFS, as elected representatives of the faculty, has authority over curriculum, admissions standards and degree programs, subject only to the veto power of the President of the University. Actions of the UFS regarding academic policy are sent to the President of the University for final approval. (A courtesy copy is also sent to the responsible Vice President or Division head.) Such actions become University policy within one month of formal notification by the UFS to the President of the University unless vetoed.

The UFS may also consider and provide advice to the President of the University and Board of Trustees on other issues of general faculty concern, including academic calendar, registration, schedule, university honors, university budgeting, athletics, strategic planning and any organizational or policy change that impacts the faculty and students of the University.

Article III. Members

Section A. Definition of UFS Faculty

The UFS faculty is composed of all full-time faculty, excluding visiting positions. In addition, the President of the University, the University Provost, and the deans of colleges are members of the University faculty. The faculty of each college will elect one member for each 20 faculty or majority fraction, with the condition that any campus with 10 or more faculty from the college must have at least one of the members. For purposes of this section, the Library is considered a college.
